

Health Literacy Chat Resources

On October 31, 2013, the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (ODPHP) hosted the 4th Annual Health Literacy Twitter Chat through its handle @healthfinder. The theme of the chat was the intersection of health literacy (#healthlit) and the Affordable Care Act (#ACA), and it was joined by 27 participants with a reach of over 480,000 Twitter accounts.

The resources listed below were shared by Twitter chat participants and will direct you to more information about health literacy, health care reform, and the ACA.
